Manager's Investment Report

Investment Objective and Policy

The objective of the Fund is to track the capital performance of global emerging equity markets, as represented by the FTSE Emerging Index.

The Manager will seek to achieve the investment objective by investing primarily in securities that make up the constituents of the FTSE Emerging Index. The Fund may also invest in stocks which are reasonably expected, at the investment manager's discretion to become part of the Index. Securities will be held with weightings generally proportionate to their market capitalisation. The Fund may hold depository receipts and derivatives both for Efficient Portfolio Management and investment purposes*.

The Fund may also invest in other transferable securities, equities, permitted deposits, money market instruments, cash, near cash and units in collective investment schemes.

* The Fund does not currently use derivatives for investment purposes.

Manager's Investment Report

During the period under review, the bid price of the Fund's R-Class distribution units fell by 4.48%. FTSE, the Index compiler, calculates the benchmark Index at the end of the business day using closing prices, whereas the Fund is valued using prevailing prices at 12 noon. Therefore, for tracking purposes the Fund has been revalued using closing prices and foreign exchange rates. On this basis over the review period, the Fund fell by 3.52%, compared with the FTSE All-World All Emerging Markets Index performance of -3.50% (Source: Bloomberg), producing a tracking difference of -0.02%.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance.

The value of investments and any income from them may go down as well as up.

Exchange rate changes may cause the value of any overseas investments to rise or fall.

The FTSE Emerging Index is calculated by FTSE International Limited ("FTSE"). FTSE does not sponsor, endorse or promote this product.

Market/Economic Review

Global equity indices have performed poorly over the last six months. Markets became increasingly volatile as 2018 came to an end, recording heavy losses before regaining some lost ground in January. Concerns that the Federal Reserve was raising US interest rates too quickly, the risk of a prolonged government shutdown in the US, the ongoing US-China trade dispute and weaker global economic indicators all combined to trigger widespread risk aversion amongst investors. The healthcare sector outperformed, boosted by robust earnings growth. As global economic prospects became more uncertain, technology stocks struggled while the energy sector underperformed as the oil price fell back to a 15-month low in December.

Although concerns over US-China trade tensions and the effect of higher US interest rates weighed on global equities, emerging market equities demonstrated some element of resilience. Despite China's economic slowdown, greater political clarity in Latin America and optimism that US-China trade talks could ease tensions lent some support to emerging market equities around the turn of the calendar year. In regional terms, Latin American equities outperformed, helped by pro-market Jair Bolsonaro's victory in Brazil's presidential election. However, Asian equities fared relatively poorly as China's ongoing slowdown seemed set to act as a drag on regional demand.

Fund Review

Companies held within the Fund are held with weightings generally proportionate to those of the benchmark Index. Therefore, investment activity, other than to raise or invest cash, is only necessary when there are changes to the benchmark Index or as a result of a corporate action.

The September semi-annual Index review was most notable for the promotion of a new country to the Index. Kuwait was added, initially at half its full weight, after it was deemed to have reached emerging markets status by FTSE. In total, seven Kuwait securities were added with a total weight of 0.27%. However, other additions to the Index were bigger changes with Yageo (Taiwan) and BeiGene ADR (China) leading the way of 19 additional new securities. As well as Kuwait being added, 31 Polish securities were sold after the country was reclassified as developed. These were by far the most significant of a total of 54 deletions from the Index. The two-way Index turnover was 3.37%.

The December 2018 quarterly Index review was much quieter, with the most notable event being Kuwait doubling its weight to full inclusion. There were also seven additions, including Notre Dame Intermedica Participacoes (Brazil) and Qatar Aluminum Manufacturing Company (Qatar), and two deletions. There were a further 69 changes to the free share capital of constituents with the largest increases being Alibaba Group ADR (China) and LUKOIL ADR (Russia). The two-way Index turnover was 2.01%.

Outside of the Index reviews, the most notable addition was the purchase of Meituan Dianping (China), which was added to the Index in September after its USD 4.4 billion Initial Public Offering (I.P.O.).

At the end of the review period, the three largest stocks in the Fund were Tencent (5.5%), Alibaba Group ADR (4.4%) and Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing (3.7%).

Outlook

We see this period as the start of the twilight zone between expansion and a downturn marking the end of the cycle; an environment where a point forecast for equities at the end of 2019 becomes increasingly useless. However, those hoping for a return to tranquillity may be disappointed.

In fixed income and currency markets, the interest rate differential between the US and elsewhere could widen, triggering more US Dollar appreciation and yield increases in the first half of the year. However, US exceptionalism may run out of steam by mid-year as the focus switches to 2020's election. One important concern is the potential for a persistent change in the relationship between equities and bonds. Bonds' shock-absorbing capacity could disappear when an inflationary mind-set takes hold.

In 2019, pressure on the Euro could continue as Brexit negotiations go to the wire and the confrontation between the Italian government and the European Commission heads into the eleventh hour.

The Fund remains well positioned to capture the performance of the Index.

The price of units and any income from them may go down as well as up.

Exchange rate changes may cause the value of any overseas investments to rise or fall.

Ongoing Charges Figures

	31 Jan 19	31 Jul 18
R-Class	0.71%	0.92%
F-Class	0.57%	0.57%
I-Class	0.33%	0.33%
C-Class	0.23%	0.23%
L-Class	0.18%	0.18%

The Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF) is the ratio of the Fund's total disclosable costs (excluding overdraft interest) to the average net assets of the Fund.

The OCF is intended to provide a reliable figure which gives the most accurate measure of what it costs to invest in a fund and is calculated based on the last period's figures.

Distribution Information

The policy is to distribute, on an annual basis, all available revenue, after deduction of those expenses which are chargeable in calculating the distribution. This being the case, there is no interim distribution.

Risk and Reward Profile

- The Risk and Reward Indicator table demonstrates where the Fund ranks in terms of its potential risk and reward. The higher the rank the greater the potential reward but the greater the risk of losing money. It is not guaranteed to remain the same and may change over time. It is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The shaded area in the table above shows the Fund's ranking on the Risk and Reward Indicator.
- The Fund is in category six because it invests in company shares which are sensitive to variations in the stock market. The value of company shares can change substantially over short periods of time. Company shares are generally considered to be higher risk investments than bonds or cash.
- Even a fund in the lowest category is not a risk free investment.
